“Ist my wife Marlene and I wish to share our condolences to the extended Hardenbergh family regarding Alice's recent death. The picture of her on her obituary page tells the whole story; 'she was missing her man' (Wayne). Though they both started their eternal journey at different times and their "earth to earth" take off places were different locations on earth, I can only believe that Wayne was eagerly awaiting Alice's arrival a the Pearly Gates of Heaven. Now they can continue their journeys TOGETHER.

Secondly, since we are Seniors as well, and have discontinued riding motorcycles some time ago, that does not stop us from recalling the many, many miles and hours we've enjoyed with Wayne and Alice on summer vacation trips of up to two weeks and usually with several other motorcycling couples, and singles, that frequently rode together.

Wayne, and now Alice, you're sadly missed, but now that you're back together, enjoy those miles you hadn't already traveled. Goodbye old friends! We'll meet somewhere down the road and finish our travels.
