

Dolores "DD" Freeman

November 16, 1939 - February 28, 2023

Dolores Ann Freeman (Northcutt) was born November 16, 1939, in Hobart, Oklahoma. She was the only child to Almond Jack Northcutt and Grace Northcutt (Sandersfeld). She went to Jesus, at age 83, on February 28, 2023, surrounded by loved ones.

Dolores married Jack Owen Freeman on June 7, 1958, in Hobart, Oklahoma. She and Jack relocated to Oklahoma City for a short time before buying their home in Mustang, Oklahoma. There they lived and raised their family for 51 years.

Dolores was mother to Jeffrey Lynn Freeman and Laura Beth Seabourn (Freeman). She was a deeply dedicated housewife and loving mother who enjoyed spending her time raising her son and daughter, as well as helping with her grandchildren, who knew her as "Grandma DD". She loved spending time watching her son race Factory Stock cars and devoted many years to supporting him in the pits, during his races, in every way possible. Her care and commitment to her family has been immensely adored and cherished.

Dolores was a member of First Baptist Church of Hobart. After buying their home in Mustang she became member to Chisholm Heights Baptist Church of Mustang, Oklahoma.

She is survived by her husband, Jack Freeman; her daughter and son in law, Laura and John Seabourn; her grandchildren, Hayden Seabourn and wife, Skye; Jordan Seabourn; Fallon Moore and husband, Joshua; Kayla Cockerham and husband, Cory; Karley Callaway and husband, Sean; and Chandra Freeman; her great grandchildren, Jack, Calliope, and Wren Seabourn; Jayden, Brylee, and Jeffrey Cockerham, and Lisa Callaway. Dolores was Preceded in death by her father, mother, and son, Jeffrey Freeman.

“ My Grandma DD was such an important person in my life! Such an amazing role model for me. I truly wish to be even half the mom and grandma she was. So many beautiful memories!
