“ At the Directors meeting on Snyder god Bank of the Wichita's and Southwest State Bank the would come by my office when they had finished and would "just checking to see if I was still there". It was like he knew my days were numbered....He also told me that when we want to Dallas to learn about the new computers that it was up to me and Azalea to learn everything, he was there to mingle. He is the kind of person that people dreamed of working for because he treated you as a friend, a true friend.
